"Camouflaged Bill is Discovered by Girl" in Daily Local News (November 2, 1933), 1. [Notes by Chris Weering, 2006]

A one dollar bill that was poorly disguised as a counterfeit five dollar bill was discovered at Joseph Giunta's store. The person who supplied the bill is figured to be a resident of West Chester. The bill was accepted as 5 dollar bill and the nature of it was not discovered until said bill was used to make change for another customer. This was not a sophisticated counterfeit bill as all four corners of the face of the bill were covered with cutout "5"s and on the back of the bill was still emblazoned the money's actual worth, "One."

"Warm Air Heating is Well Advanced" in Daily Local News (November 2, 1933), 4. [Notes by Chris Weering, 2006]

A new process of heating homes using warm air is being praised. This system uses many ducts installed into your home, so that each room receives heat, instead of it all coming into a solitary room. Not only does your entire house get heated, but you are also able to get more energy from the same amount of coal.

"Repeal and Sunday Sports Promise to Roll Up Big Vote" in Daily Local News (November 4, 1933), 1. [Notes by Chris Weering, 2006]

The issues of repealing the 18th Amendment and having sports on Sunday are receiving much more attention than the candidates running for office. The repealing of Prohibition is being hotly debated between those in favor ("wets") and those against it being repealed ("drys") The issue of Sunday Sports has not had a lot said about it.

"Brick in Hurlled Through Window of Barber Shop" in Daily Local News (November 7, 1933), 1. [Notes by Chris Weering, 2006]

The incident is said to be one of 'barber shop racketeering.' Henry D. Fox, owner of the building, had recently dropped out of the Delaware Montgomery Counties Master Barber Association and, in doing so, abandoned their policy of price fixing. Then someone threw a brick through the front window of his shop on November 6 [correct date?]. He says that despite the incident he will not up his reduced prices. All barber shops in West Chester are members of the Master Barbers Association, except Fox's, and follow the price fixing policy to the letter.
